

PAUL CONTI

Margaret River
Sauvignon Blanc
2018

Sauvignon Blanc grown on our Miamup Road vineyard in the celebrated Wilyabrup sub-region of Margaret River, has produced a crisp, fresh and aromatic style.

This wine was entirely tank fermented using a cultured yeast with some solids left in the ferment. Lees contact and co-fermentation with our Margaret River semillon has resulting in a fuller, rounded style.

Bottled young to retain freshness, the bouquet of gentle, lifted, herbaceous and floral characters complements a pure and elegant palate.

Although this wine is best enjoyed in its youth, it will develop well over time

Enjoy with barbecued seafood and an unforgettable sunset.
