

PAUL CONTI

Margaret River Cabernet Malbec 2019

Cabernet sauvignon and malbec grown in Margaret River hail from vineyards of excellent soil quality and viticultural practices.

A classic Margaret River blend, the cabernet portion is sourced from our Miamup Road vineyard, with a small addition from a mature vineyard at growers, Grace + White.

The 30 percent malbec component is from our Miamup Road estate fruit.

Entirely hand-picked and matured in new and seasoned French oak, the cabernet fruit provides structure and length.

Rich red berry fruit flavours dominate hints of regional mint and quality dusty oak.

A stylish, medium-bodied cabernet malbec exhibiting a medley of back forest fruits, olives and violet characters.

Ripe and lingering with a persistent, gravelly finish – this is an eponymous Margaret River style.

Alc: 14.5%

Winemaker's notes:

"Our Margaret River cabernet malbec has a special spot for me. I have been intent on making one since we acquired our Margaret River property over a decade ago, and now that the fruit is thriving, I'm embracing its creation.

Ours is inspired from the Langhorne Creek reds I loved when living and studying in South Australia. Most were made with malbec which imparts a lovely juicy, earthiness which personally, I really enjoy."

Jason Conti – wine maker